

Residents of Precinct 2-2,

Do precinct 2-2 constituents have the capability to function as a civic whole? By capability, does the means & will exist to do so?

Can civic priorities be identified, and reported back to the precinct's constituents? Given the voter registry list (VRL), can majority agreement be measured, verified, and reported?

For example:

- 1 Could identifying be 10 or more precinct constituents publishing a civic priority for the whole precinct to consider?
- 2 Could measuring and verifying be publishing proof that the majority of voters on the VRL support a civic priority?
- 3 Could reporting be a simple publication of precinct news regarding the progress of reaching consensus?

The Value of Consensuses

A consensus allows for a precinct to interact with our elected government officials as the electorate or civic whole. However, all elected offices serve more than one precinct's constituents. To be effective, each precinct of Sheridan County would need to do the same. Then consensuses could be identified, verified, and reported for each of the county's tax entities. Legislative and Judicial Districts would require input from other Wyoming county to form consensuses.

Regarding the Precinct, the immediate value of forming consensuses is identifying priorities for each of our Elected Offices/Races. Then tracking the progress of current Electeds regarding those stated priorities, and vetting candidates for the upcoming elections to conclude whether a change in representation is necessary.

It allows the constituents of a precinct, a tax district, a legislative district, or judicial district to function as a civic whole rather than a collection of, isolated, voters.

A Civic Age

Is a government of, by, and for the governed desirable? If so, then the civic deliberation should be done by the constituents. The republic exists to formalize the electorates' will.

Thank-you for your attention and consideration of this matter.

Kind Regards,

Noll Roberts

Web: noll.news

Email; sheridandclash@gmail.com

Text: (307) 620-8557

Timestamp: Mon Mar 23 10:55:39 AM MDT 2026